SHOOTER FLED UNDER FIRE

A quarrel over a bottle of beer may result in another murder in Cecil county. The victim is William Carter, of Port Deposite, and his assailant an alien employ in a gang building a stone road between Fair Hill and the Delaware State line. Sunday evening the men were drinking beer in a woods, when a quarrel arose between Cotter and his assailant. The foreigner ripped out a revolver and shot Carter in the head and shoulder. The injured man was later taken to Union Hospital at Elkton. His condition is critical.

Soon after the shooting Sheriff McAllister, George Potts and Alfred Taylor went to the scene in the automobile. One of the men in the crowd was noticed getting away and Sheriff McAllister was then told that he was the man who did the shooting. The official and his assistants started in pursuit, chasing him a mile through the woods and over fields, firing at least 25 times at the fleeing man. At one time, they were within 15 feet of the fugitive, but he finally escaped.

PISTOL HALTS HOLD-UP

Held up in the causeway in South Wilmington late Sunday night. A. J. Richards, a grocer at Fifteenth and French streets drove off two young men with a big revolver which he had at hand for just such emergencies.

Richardson, his wife, a niece, Florence Schuyler, and Guy Everett were motoring home from Galena, Md., when in passing under a long row of big trees which made the road very dark, they were halted by a light swinging across the road. When they approached the spot, two young white men separated to opposite sides of the automobile and Richardson was ordered to stop.

One of the highwaymen fell off of the auto and the other jumped off when Richards produced his revolver. He then turned on the power and hurried away from the scene. One of the men was so close to his wife that she could smell the odor of liquor on his breath. The police were given a good description of both men.

KNIVES OUT FOR TAFT

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 23.—While the insurgent Republicans working from two headquarters, one the Progressive Republican League—or Jonathan Bourne's Salvation Army, as Senator Depew christened the organization—and the other the La Follette headquarters, are reaching 1,000,000 Republican voters through the mails with anti-Taft literature, President Taft is receiving scant encouragement from the standpatters.

Twenty thousands dollars is said to be the cost to date of the mail propaganda of the La Follette boom, the financial backers of which are commonly reported to be Charles J. Crane, of Chicago, who was permitted by the Taft Administration to get as far as San Francisco as Minister to China; Rudolph Spreckels, of San Francisco; Medill McCormick, of Chicago; and Gifford Pinchot. While these two organizations are keeping up a fearful bombardment of the Taft Administration, a standpatter occasionally deftly slips the knife under the Presidental fifth rib.

The latest exhibition of this character was Vice President Sherman's comment on the action of the California people in adopting the recall by an overwhelming vote at the very moment when President Taft was entering the State. Mr. Sherman points out that inasmuch as President Taft's veto message on the recall in the Arizonia Constitution is a good State paper there must be other reasons why the people of California greeted his arrival in that State with an overwhelming vote in favor of the recall, and he cannot help observing that the fact "that his (Mr. Taft's) ideas were not accepted by the people of California shows marked disaffection.

Vice President Sherman had "hoped that California was solidly for President Taft and all of his ideas, but this recent action gives us a new light," he says and adds that it "presages trouble in the next campaign."

President Vice Sherman's contribution to the campaign literature of the day is a mild public utterances of the sentiments that are more forcibly expressed anonymounsly by standpat Republicans, and that are made the basis for the reports that are constantly going out of Washington that the reactionaries in the party are getting ready to ditch the President in favor of some candidate who can unite the two factions of the party.

In this connection friends of former President Roosevelt are pretending to tell with certainty where the former President will land in the coming campaign. They say that Colonel Roosevelt believes nothing can prevent the renomination of President Taft if he makes an effort to get it, and they expect the Colonel to make a few perfunctory and general utterances in behalf of the party whoever its nominee. But it is asserted that he will not be in the firing line, and that he will not in 1912, as in 1908, undertake to "put some ginger in the campaign" for his former protege.

IN COLD STORAGE

Assemblyman Brennans author of New York's Brennan cold storage law, said the other day:

"A recent examination of the cold-storage plants in New York City showed that in twelve storage houses alone there were stored 7,300,000 pounds of poultry and meat; 4,500,000 pounds of fish, 2,000,000 pounds of cheese; 6,000,000 pounds of butter, and 500,000 cases of eggs.

"This food should is labeled as what it is. It shouldn't be sold to the public as fresh food at the price of fresh food. For it isn't fresh food, and, though it looks all right its taste is all wrong—except to such people as are blessed with the palate of Jim Jimison.

"Jim Jimison," Mr. Brennan explained "was a hard drinker up Ithaca way. One evening Jim stopped at the tavern for a dram, tossed it off, and departed calmly; but after he was gone the tavern keeper discovered that in place of applejack, he had given Jim a drink of sulphuric acid bottle that was kept to clean the verdigris off the brass taps.

"The tavern keeper couldn't sleep that night, but the next morning, to his unspeakable relief Jim dropped in for another dram before breakfast, apparently none the worse for his dose poison.

"Jim, said the tavern keeper, what did you think of that applejack I sold you last night?

"Oh, it was fine stuff, said Jim; good warmin' stuff. It had one fault. Every time I coughed it set my whiskers on fire.

THE GUNNING SEASON

Gunners in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware are preparing for their annual exodus to the haunts of game, and already many of them are in the field. The squirrel and rabbit season opens November 1 in Pennsylvania and does not close until December 15. The same dates bound the quail, pheasant and wild turkey season.

The opening of the squirrel season in Delaware, September 15 drew many Pennsylvania and New Jersey hunters to this State. The quail, partridge, and rabbit season in Delaware, however, runs only from November 15 to January 1.

Hunters in the three states say that never has there been such a prosperous season for quail and partridge in recent years. The dry spring is said to have caused the abundance of game.

The water fowl season which opened September 31 on the Delaware River and Bay is proving attractive to Philadelphia hunters. A few seal have been seen, but the New Jersey law prohibits the killing from November I to December 31.

Stole Evidence By Quart

GEORGETOWN, DEL., Oct. 30.—Within range of the voices of three Judges, within reach of the real arm of the law and in the very sacred precincts of justice, thieves managed to steal two quarts of the evidence which was being used in whisky cases, while it was stored in the jury room in the Court House.

The astonishing discovery was made by Deputy Attorney General, Frank M. Jones after he had issued an order to empty all the whisky and ginger, of which there was nearly 20 gallons. All of the Court officers vehemently denied any knowledge of what become of the missing evidence.

The remainder of the liquor was emptied out in the gutters, while on-lookers openly decried the loss of so good evidence.

Plummer Thrashes Officer

SEAFORD, DEL., Oct. 30.—Declaring that County Constable Curtis J. Steen had treated him unfairly, Thomas J. Kimble, a plumber, met the office, on High Street here yesterday afternoon and without preliminaries pounced upon him and administered a thrashing. The officer was knocked down and beaten in the face, and had not some bystanders come to his assistance he might have been seriously injured. Kimble was immediately arrested and held under bail for a further hearing Friday afternoon. Steen was cut and bruised about the face and had to be taken to a physicians's office for treatment.

FARM NEWS AND VIEWS

Sheep are scavengers.

Don't crowd your chickens.

Wheat responds readily to good culture.

Do not be in too much of a hurry to wean the pigs.

The separator should be thoroughly washed after it is used.

More horses are spoiled by poor drivers than any other way.

The cream should be delivered not less than three times a week.

You should have a cooker in order to get the best results with fall pigs.

Give the dairy cows plenty of salt and let them consume all the water they need.

The hen is admitted to be one of the financial factors in the country today.

Stock carrots are a valuable root crop and will yield ten to fifteen tons on rich loamy soil.

Changes in the richness of milk cannot alter the proportion of skim milk to cream delivered.

The world's herd of swine numbers 100,000,000, two fifths of which belong to the United States.

Bran is a good ration for the horse, but must not be fed too frequently or it will cause indigestion,

The check rein is a check, not much on the head of the horse upon its general efficiency.

Where skimming is done by means of a centrifugal separator the richness of the cream may also vary.

Corn may be fed to advantage the bundle when spread on a clean dry feeding yard or in racks.

The greatest handicap to the egg trade is the general store with its custom of bartering merchandise for eggs.

After the grain is cut and stacked, sheep are turned on the stubble to eat the weed which otherwise would go to seed.

The length of time required to blanch celery sufficiently for marketing will depend largely upon the variety being grown.

The dairy farmer must bring his product above suspicion and any other course has in it neither profit, dignity nor good citizenship.

Do not attempt to pull onions from the soil with an iron tooth rape which will so injure the bulbs that they will become soft and decay.

Disease lurks in a neglected swill barrell. Scrub and scald it every week.

Bloody milk or that from a sick cow should never be mixed with wholesome milk.

As chickens grow diminish the number of meals as well as the variety of food.

It is fatal to some plants to fertilize them with rich manures when the ground is very dry.

It is well to have a trough in the hog-house in which is kept wood ashes, salt and copperas.

If the spring pigs are doing well hold them steady until fall and then push them for the market.

Some cows are such persistent milkers that it is next to impossible to dry them up, even for a short time.

It requires the work of experienced grower of ginseng to germinate the seed with any degree of success.

A hog needs all his time to make pork and should not be expected to s pend any moments fighting lice.

It should be remembered that the milk cannot be increased in solids and in fat by the feeding of rich food.

The individuality of each horse should be studied and the feeds supplied to meet individual requirements.

One of the greatest needs in improving the condition of eggs on the farm is to provide not only sufficient number of nests, but clean ones as well.

The sugar cane, and allied plants exclusively in any state of development are not desirable food for horses, nor for any of the domestic animals.

Many farmers are giving their cows a good grain ration, but a few minutes brushing every day would be better than the last two pounds of grain that is fed.

The bane of most poultry yards today, and this applies not only to those on the farms but also to many exclusive poultry plants, is makeshift equipments.

The colt in the pasture should have its feet cared for as closely as the matured animal in order that he may grow to maturity with feet in a healthy condition.

USEFUL THINGS TO KNOW

If you would have light dumplings, leave the cover off for about ten minutes after you have put them in.

Mix your griddle-cakes, waffles, fritters etc., in the upper part of a double boiler instead of in an ordinary mixing bowl, and you will find the handle very useful to hold it by when frying them.

Do not forget to give the baby plenty of water. Milk is a food, and does not take the place of water as a drink. Plenty of water between feedings, taken either warm or cool, is a great aid to the bowels and kidneys.

Nut butter is pretty good substitute for meat now that the latter brings such high prices. Run walnuts or shellbarks through a food-chopper, and run them into about one-third as much good butter. Spread on crackers or bread.

One housekeeper has prevented many a burned roast by setting the alarm clock to the proper time to open the oven door. Then she goes about her work in the other parts of the house, knowing that she will hear the imperative call at the right time.

The right way to cook oatmeal: Put a teaspoonful of salt in a quart of water over the fire, in the upper part of a double boiler. As soon as it boils briskly, sprinkle the oatmeal in slowly. Do not stir, but let it boil briskly for a few minutes, then set it in the lower half of the boiler, which should contain hot water then cover it and let it bubble slowly, without stirring, for four or five hours at the least. If wanted for breakfast it should be cooked the day before, and then finished with as much time as you can allow in the morning.

Make a list of all the fruit vegetables, preserves and relishes that are in the store room and cellar. Then a glance will tell you what to choose without losing the time to look over several dozen jars.

Have everything labeled, for no memory is good for several months, and it saves many disappointments in opening the wrong jar.

If one can make their sausage at home keep it in corn husks and smoke it. You will find a delicious flavor never before experienced. Some do not care for the smoking, but dip it after being wraped in the husks and well tied, into hot fat, which will seal it, and it may then be packed in layers in a box. Keep cool, and it will keep for several years.

Cookery should be a fine art, but, alas, in many kitchens it is thought of as drudgery and put out of the way as soon as possible. The development and progress of civilization. The more enlightened and intelligent a people, the more attention they pay to cookery. It is an art as old as history and its evolution theory is to the scientist.

Cookery like all other arts, has its laws of proportion, or right values, its laws of harmony and contrast.

Cookery appeals to the sense of taste as music appeals to the hearing and as "Suns and skies and clouds of June" appeal to the sight.

An educated sense of taste is as highly gratifying as the indulgence of any of the senses and as necessary for good digestion and physical as well as mental well being.

To serve a meal that is attractive to the eye, satisfying to the taste and sufficiently nourishing to the body, food that is digestible and the cost of which is kept within reasonable limits, is an accomplishment that any young woman may be proud of attaining.

Such accomplishment comes only by hard work, study and application, but it is worth the price many times over.

Sweet sandwiches take the place of cake and are more acceptable to many a palate.

Angel cake is much better served the day after it is baked. It is better flavored and more tender.

A valuable hint for the users of linoleum where it is necessary to piece it, is to put a strip of oilcloth, spread with a good glue, on the cloth side. Put under the two edges, being careful that the linoleum edges are well shoved together, press down firmly and put under heavy weights for twenty-four hours. The seam will hardly be noticed.

The serving of afternoon tea is becoming quite a natural custom and also a fine art. Instead of using loaf sugar, some hostesses make their own fondant for the sweetening, flavoring it with lemon orange, coloring it to suit the taste or fancy.

ENFORCE THE LAW

"The moral of it all is that the State MUST enforce the laws. Nobody has any right to rebel if he is caught in law violations and punished. He ought to be glad he was not caught earlier, or sorry that he got into such an embarrassing position. The State can never afford to send Abe Turner to prison and then excuse others who have advantage over Prisoner Turner in opportunity of knowing the line of cleavage between right and wrong. And there is no politics in it and any person who attempts to get political revenge thereon is a dangerous person. —Delaware State News.

After alluding to the failure of the law to prevent in various places in this state, both in licensed and in unlicensed districts, the illicit traffic in liquor, the Delaware State News uses the above wholesome language.

Urged by the greed of money, political "pull" and the interests of huge corporations, are everywhere defeating the purposes of useful laws passed for the protection of society. Perhaps in not a single state where the experiment of Prohibition or Local Option, has been attempted, has it been given a fair trial upon its merits, by reason of the failure or inability of officers to enforce its provisions. And this failure is largely due to the apathy of good citizens, and the dishonesty of bad ones—helped on by official connivance, sometimes, alas by the Courts themselves. All this robs the law of its usefulness and makes its penalties an utter dead letter.

Local option in Kent and Sussex can be enforced if the county officers and the courts so desire—the first by vigorously ferreting out and prosecuting, and the latter by affixing something like adequate penalties. The $200.00 fine of these two Dover doctors for writing fake prescriptions will stop up that big leak and the same severity shown to speak-easies and bootleggers, including in both instance the Court's promise of jail sentences for the next offenders, will result in such an enforcement of that law as will clearly show its high value to all citizens.

While THE TRANSCRIPT, sharing the charity of the News, wishes not to rejoice at disgrace fallen upon these two Dover doctors, it does feel bound to say that any man who would so debase the honorable profession of medicine as to make it serve as panderer to low appetites, richly merits to feel the lash of the law and the contempt of all citizens.

Finally, were the tone of the state press generally as sound as that shown in the above robust editorial of the News, such a public sentiment would be aroused as would coerce county officials to do their whole duty and stamp out the vile business.

In the death of Sewell C. Biggs and Gideon E. Hukill Middletown and the State, suffer a deep loss, for these two men long filled active and useful stations in business, social and church circles. By lives of probity sobriety and thrift, they both amassed comfortable fortunes, and their careers will serve as exemplars to stimulate the youth of our town and state to a worthy emulation.

And what is noteworthy in this age of a growing disregard or contempt for religion, they both died in the church humbly acknowledging the God of their fathers as their God.

Both leave to their children the priceless heritage of clean sweet names unstained by crime or evil deeds, and those names will long be honorably remembered.

THE WHY OF IT

"Middletown seems to have a very popular epidemic—of marrying. Like the crowded street car, however, there is room for others,"—Del. State News.

Neighbor, it is the superior brand of fine, handsome young ladies abounding in our burg, that's making Benedicts wholesale of the eligible young fellows here. Send up some of your Dover incorrigibles and see how quickly our Middletown girls will teach them to go in martial harness as staid as any Darby and Joan that ever pulled together between Hymen's thills.

PORT PENN

Mrs. Margaret Zacheis had as her guests two days last week her sisters Miss Anna Keen and Mrs. Stephen Keen, of Blackbird.

Mrs. Earle Cross, of Martinburg, West Va., who was taken very ill while visiting her aunt Mrs. John Weillen was removed to the Delaware Hospital on Saturday for treatment.

Mr. George Johnson an aged resident of our village passed away early Tuesday morning. Mr. Johnson has been an invalid for several years. Funeral services were held on Friday. Interment at Hickory Grove Cemetery.

The M. E. Church still remains closed the pastor Mr. Smith, of Wilmington, was unable to keep the charge, but it is to be hoped we will have some one in a very short time, but we are unable to say at what time it will be opened.

The masquerade dance held by the ladies of the P. O. S. of A. on Halloween night was a grand success. Two musicians E. C. Webb and John H. Yearsley furnished music for the dancers and everyone expressed themselves as having a grand time. Mrs. R. R. Easton and little daughter Esther were given prizes for being the best dressed couple and Mrs. Clara Hale and Ernest Hickman for the most comic.

OPERA HOUSE MEETING

There will be an interesting service Sunday afternoon (to-morrow) at three o'clock in the Opera House. The International Bible Students Association has made arrangements for Mr. Richie, Bible scholar and lecturer, to give a series of three lectures illustrated by a large painted chart. The object of these lectures is not to establish any denomination or sect, but to stimulate Christians and others to a study of the Bible and to gain a clearer insight into God's holy Word.

The Association has arranged for similar lectures throughout the country, and at all of them the seats are free and no collection is lifted. The first lecture will be on "The Three Worlds."

MR. RICHIE

Mr. Richie claims that when rightly understood the Bible contains sufficient evidence to prove its own inspiration. He says: "In order to appreciate and harmonize the scriptures it is necessary for us to observe Heavens' first law of order and apply texts where they belong. If we keep in mind God's purpose in dealing differently with the world of mankind in the different ages or dispensations we have no difficulty in harmonizing such apparently contradictory doctrines as Election and free grace. In fact, we can readily see how the Bible is consistent with itself from Genesis to Revelation and prove that God is love.

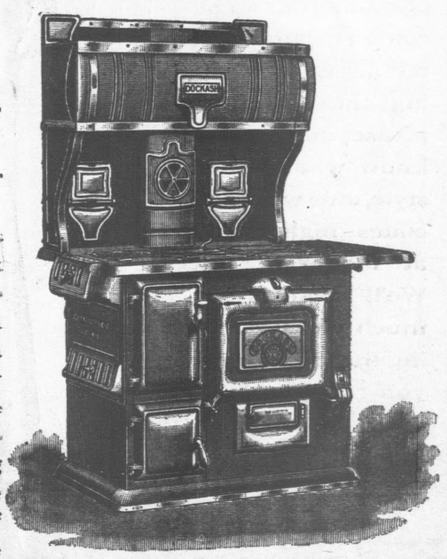
STEEL
Dockash
Price $55.00
Complete with water front or reservoir.



The manufacturers of this range claim it would not be possible to build a better range with a million dollars and a million men. A mighty big claim, but we believe it after five years' experience in selling and using it. The users of this range have the satisfaction of knowing they have the best. There are other good ranges made, but none the equal of the Steel Dockash; it is in a class by itself.

We have a full line of Ranges, Single or Double Heaters, Air-tight, etc. Repairs for all makes of stoves.

Yes, true it is, not only fine suits, but many other garments, we have to delight the ladies and others. We have indeed fine goods, big bargains worth looking at, in every one of our departments, and folks are finding it out. You can too. See our ad. about this week's "Sample" bargains etc.

Because of the funeral services being held on Tuesday, the attendance at the New Century Club was small. The regular program was deferred until a later period. Miss Bessie Morton read a paper on "Woman Suffrage" and Mrs. Fred Brady read a paper on Deferring Old Age." It was written by Mrs. C. B. Cochran of West Chester, and Philadelphia. Mrs. Fred Brady also read "Jim Smileys Frog" by Mark Twain. Mrs. H. M. Schroeder gave instrumental music. The program for next Tuesday will be Business meeting; Current events, Miss Mary Hutchin chairman Indoor picnic.

Masquerade on Streets

The town on Tuesday evening was given over on Main and Broad streets to the biggest masquerade carnival Middletown ever had. Scores of young folks, and not a few older ones, male and female, white and black, costumed to represent various comic impersonations and characters, rigged out in every conceivable funny fashion, thronged the pavements for an hour or two, and indulged in many a harmless prank and sport. This harmless fun is a big improvement upon the injury and destruction of private property that used to mark these Halloween celebrations. We understand but little if any damage was done Tuesday evening. It was far more general the masking and costuming, than ever before attempted.

MASQUERADE DANCE

On Tuesday evening the young men of Middletown gave a pleasing masquerade dance in the room over the Shallcross, garage which was rustically trimmed and lighted with grinning pumpkin lanterns, in keeping with the Halloween season—a good electric light however was needed to supplement to "dim religious light" the candles afforded.

Some of the guests were dressed in costume srepresenting a number of characters and were generally masked. The masks were soon removed and the evening till past the midnight hour delightfully given over to Terpsichorean fun, the Elliott's orchestra, of Wilmington, of three pieces harp, cornet and violin furnishing the music for the 20 odd numbers consisting of waltzes and two-steps the first dance being the lancers which was done with the utmost jollity.

The following ladies and gentlemen were in attendance: MissPrice, of Chestertown, Md.; Miss Elizabeth Joseph, of Smyrna; Miss Allen and Miss Sadie Megary, of Philadelphia; Miss Helen Trowers, of Eastville, Va.; Misses Estelle Beaten, Helen Myers, Blanche Deakyne, Mary Pleasanton, Elma Deakyne, Emma Pennington, Elizabeth Lindley, Madeline Pennington, Elizabeth Gibbs, Mr. and Mrs. George V. Peverley, Dr. and Mrs. J. Allen Johnson, Mrs. Lindley, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Pennington, Mrs. Davall Gibbs, all of Middletown; Mr. and Mrs. James E. Woodal, of Georgetown, Md.; Mr. Walls, of Smyrna; Maily Davis, of Odessa; Messrs Clayton Johnson, Oldham Davis, John Ernest, Francis Johnson, and Mr. Ernest of Sassafras, Md.; Albert Donavan, of Odessa: Isaac Gibbs, of Chestertown, Md.; and Clarence George, Frank Richards, Benjamin Gibbe, Lloyd Bragdon, Ralph Shallcross, Jesse Willits, Wallace Daniels Samuel Buckworth, Taylor Barnett, Irving Roberts and Elias Shallcross.

THE FAIR AND BAZAAR

It is a first-class fair and bazaar that the industrious, ladies of St. Joseph's R. C. Church held on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings in the room over THE TRANSCRIPT office. They built booths and counters and draped and festooned them with bunting and porti colored stuffs, while the room itself was handsomely decorated with autumn tinted foliage wrought into bouquets and wreaths while rusty specimens of yellow and red ears of corn gave further reminders of the Fall.

Upon the counters of the booths and tacked to the walls were displayed a multitude of charming things in needle embroidery and fancy work done by the deft fingers of devout women for the church. Some of the articles are especially fine, one lovely piece of broidery being from the skillful hands of a lady over 80 years of age.

One booth and several tables were devoted to the sale of ice cream and cakes, while the ever popular Fishing Pond was nightly thronged with crowds trying to make a lucky "catch" from out its bidden prize filled depths.

The attendance was large and the articles were all sold for good prices together with the various donations made by some of the merchants and other outside friends.

We must not fail to mention an incident which gave the Editor of THE TRANSCRIPT a pleasing shock of surprise—viz the bestowal by Father Crowley and the ladies of the Bazar upon him of a very handsome white handled set of carving knife, fork and steel in fancy case. Our good housewife smiled her biggest smile at sight of this glittering dinner armory and declared it was "just what we wanted". The generous donors will please accept our joint thanks for the compliment.

MIDDLETOWN HOTEL SOLD

One of the largest real estate sales made in lower New Castle County in many years was closed on Thursday when Mr. John P McIntyre sold the Middletown Hotel to Mr. George H. Johnson of Newark, the purchase price being $55.000. Mr. McIntyre has been the proprietor of the Middletown Hotel for the past nine years, and his numerous friends were sorry when told of his intention to sell his interests

Under his good management the local hotel had gained a reputation for being the best conducted hostiliary on the Peninsula, and his table was always laden with the best that money could buy. Mr. McIntyre will remain in Middletown for the present, but will in all probability engage in business elsewhere in the spring.

Mr. Johnson the new properitor who is an experienced hotel man, and comes highly recommended, will endeavor to give the people the same high class service as his predecessor.

MASQUERADE PARTY

A masquerade party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Cleaver, at Mt. Pleasant, on Saturday evening. The time was pleasantly spent in playing games, dancing, music and several vocal selections were rendered by the guests. The drawing room was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves and ferns also pink and black trimmings. A gypsy told the future of the guests, who wore very beautiful and grotesque costumes. There were two automobiles from Wilmington and the guests were taken for a ride during the evening. They were invited to the dining room at a late hour by the hostess, where refreshments were served.

The guests were from Mt. Pleasant, Middletown, McDonough, Knoxentown, Marshallton, and Wilmington. Among those from Wilmington and Marshallton were Thomas Hopkins and daughters Pearl and Ella, Ellsworth Hibbert, R. J. Cunningham, Harry Webb, Gilbert King, James and William Vandegrift, Mrs. Laura J. Vandegrift, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Whittaker, Master Howard and Francis Whittaker and Helen Vandegrift.

Farmers' Train

The farmers' special train (educational) which will go down the Delaware railroad and its branches on November 20 for several days' tour of the farming districts, stopping at all of the small as well as large stations, will carry a strong staff of instructors.

W. A. Beattle of the United States Department of Agriculture; Dr. Richard H. Hill, director of Farmers' Institutes in Maryland; E. I. Oswald, of Chewsville, Md., W. Oscar Collier of Easton, Md; Professors Hayward, McCue and Grantham of the Delaware Experiment Station will be on board to speak and demonstrate the exhibits and it is now expected that both Governors Crothers, of Maryland, and Pennewill, of Delaware will accompany the instructors.

A Surprise Party

Miss Mildred Vaughn was given a nice little surprise party on Tuesday evening when 25 of her young iriends, all comically masked and tricked out in a variety of fantasticalities playing no end of pranks and jokes, took the residence of her mother Mrs. Alfred G. Chamberlaine, by storm. The young people had a royal good time for a couple of hours with merry sports and games. Refreshments were served by their little hostess. A number of older friends were present to witness the youthful merry-making.

New Passenger Truck

Mr. Lee Orrell has placed on order with J. F. McWhorter & Son for a new 35 horse-power four cylinder "McIntyre" passenger truck. The new truck will seat 20 persons, and will be used for conveying passengers between Middletown and Odessa, and also large parties desiring transportation to other points.

The new truck will be equipped with electric lights, and all other conveniences and will be one of the finest trucks in the State.

Resolutions of Respect

At a meeting of the Official Board of Bethesda Methodist Episcopal Church, held October 29th, 1911, anneuncement was made of the death of Bro. Gideon Emory Hukill on Friday evening, October 27th, 1911; whereupon the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved: That the Board records with sorrow the death of Bro. G. E. Hukill whose life and services have been devoted to the best interests of Bethesda Church. He had been a membor of the Board of Trustees, and for many years its President, a member of the Board of Stewards, serving a long term as Recording Steward. Chairman of the Finnnce Committee, being active in all these interests up to the time of his death. Wise in council, prompt in action, broad in grasp and tenacious in purpose, he watched with jealous care the growth and usefulness of the Church dedicating his means, his time and his strength to her highest development. No want of the Church was too minute for his care, none too broad for his grasp. We shall miss him at our Board meetings.

His loss will be keenly felt in every branch of Church work. Although modest and retiring, he was a leader of men and dealt in Masterly Spirit with the problems of Christian betterment.

We deeply deplore his death and in sorrow pay our tribute to his worth. Our sympathy goes out to his family, in this their irreparable loss. With them the Church and the entire community mourn that so broad, so manly and useful a life was ended. His life work has been well done, he leaves a memory clothed with all the glory of a life worked out on the lines of the Master's Will.

Resolved: That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the Board, that a copy be sent to his family and that they be published in the newspapers of the town.

VAUGHAN S. COLLINS,

At a meeting of the Official Board of Bethesda M. E. Church the following action was taken on the death of one of their most highly esteemed members:

Bethesda M. E. Church,
Middletown, Del., Oct. 29, 1911.

With profound sorrow this Official Board records the death of Sewell C. Biggs on Saturday, October 28th, 1911. He had reached the unusual age of eighty-eight years, in the use of all his faculties. Though he was gathered as a "Shock of corn in his season," and in the very nature of things we could not expect him to much longer remain, yet his going leaves this church and community to sustain a loss that they could ill afford. His ripe and sober judgment and judicial temperament were marked characteristics, and during the years of his prime he brought them to bear in the service of his State in her legislative fialls and her Register's Court. Quite and unobtrusive by nature yet his genial spirit endeared him to all.

With a sense of bereavement we cherish his memory and here place upon our records the memorial that he was a christian gentleman.

VAUGHAN S. COLLINS,
President of Official Board.
MARTIN B. BURRIS,
Acting Secretary.

Her Eighth Birthday

Little Miss Laura Fogel entertained a number of her friends on Friday evening last from 6 30 until 9 o'clock, at her home on East Cochran street in honor of her birthday. The dining-room was prettily decorated and lettuce sandwiches, coffee, olives, brick cream, fancy cakes, candies and nuts were served. Those present were, Grace and Clara Brady, Henrietta Schroeder, Margaret Ritchie, Elizabeth and Katherine Alexander, Marion and Frances Armstrong, Norma Pyle, Helen McWhorter, Price Kelley, Henry, Buster and Katherine, Townsend, and Percy and Edwin Donaghay.

THE TOWN'S DEATH RECORD FOR THE WEEK

SEWELL C. BIGGS

Middletown lost a second prominent good citizen when on Saturday morning about 3 o'clock Mr. Sewell C. Biggs died at his late residence on West Main Street. Mr. Biggs was in his 89th year and had been so feeble for months that he had been confined to his home and his death was therefore not unexpected.

Hon. Sewell Chambers Biggs, second son of John and Dinah Biggs, was born in Pencader hundred, New Castle county, September, 11th, 1823. His elder brother was the late Governer Benjamin Thomas Biggs.

Sewell C. Biggs attended the common schools of Pencader hundred and supplemented his course of studies there by a classic course at the Pennington Seminary New Jersey Conference. After studying at the institution for three terms, Mr. Biggs taught school in St. Georges hundred, for three years, receiving as compensation $70 per quarter. He then entered into partnership with his brother the late Governor, in the cultivation of 400 acres of the home farm, which they continued for four years. The tract was then divided, S. C. Biggs taking about 180 acres, improving the land, and making his home upon it for 40 years. The Biggs brothers were among the earliest cultivators of the peach in this section of the country. Sewell C. Biggs rendered important public services; in 1856 he was elected to the StateSenate on the ticket of the American party, served four years; was re-elected, and served a second term, very acceptably to his constituents.

In 1870 Mr. Biggs was elected a member of the House of Representatives of the Delaware Legislature, and at the session of 1871 was chosen Speaker. It was at this session that the famous triangular contest for election of United States Senator occurred, in which the contestants were the three Saulsbury brothers—Willard, whose term as Senator was then expiring, Gove, who had just retired from the office of governor, and Eli, a lawyer of Kent County, whose previous political experience had been confined to a single term in the Delaware House of Represen atives. The result was the nomination and election of Eli Saulsbury, who afterwards was twice re-elected. Mr. Biggs was an active participant in this contest, and at the time the victory of Eli Saulsbury was attributed to a considerable extent to his able efforts.

As Speaker of the House he presided with dignity, impartiality and courtesy. He was always noted for kindness and humanity. He was appointed register of wills of New Castle county by Governor Ponder on October 27th, 1874, for the term of five years, at the expiration of which in 1879, Governor Hall reappointed him for a similar term. All these public positions Mr. Biggs filled with ability and honor. He cast his first vote with the Whig party, but after the change of party names and platforms, he became a Democrat, and had ever since adhered staunchly to the political doctrines of that party.

Mr. Biggs had been a resident of Middletown since 1890 when he bought a handsome dwelling here. At one time he was one of the most extensive land owners in the State, as he owned 500 acres in Sussex county and 800 acres in New Castle county. He was formerly president and a director of the Middletown Light and Water works system and at the time of his death a director of the Citizens National Bank of Middletown.

Mr. Biggs was married in 1854 to Caroline, daughter of Abram C. Beekman a farmer near Griggstown, N. J. The deceased is survived by two sons J. Frank Biggs an attorney, and Abram B. Biggs, of Middletown.

He was a member of the Bethesda M. E. Church and one of its Trustees, and gave very liberally toward its support and that of its various causes and charities. Mr. Biggs will be remembered by this generation especially as a quiet, polite "gentlemen of the old school" and those who knew him in other years tell us he was ever of a kindly disposition, gentle in manner and in heart too. In his death this town loses a valuable citizen and a good man.

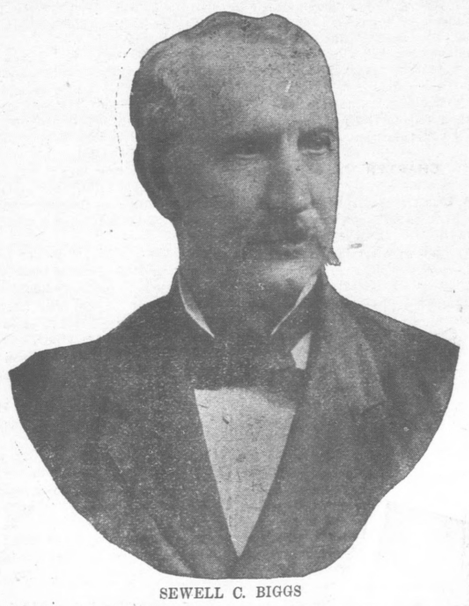
Mr. Biggs was burried from his late residence on Main street, Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, the Rev. Vaughan S. Collins having charge of the services, assisted by Revs. W. H. Hutchin and J. A. Artere; Rev. Percy L. Donaghay, rector of St. Annes P. E. church was also present. The Rev. Collins spoke in highly appreciative terms of the upright and distinguished career of the deceased.

Music was furnished by a quartette composed of Mrs. Wallace Eliason, Mrs. Levi G. Sterner, and Messrs. Samuel Price and George Steward. They sang "I Would Not Live Alway" and "One Sweetly Solemn Thought".

The casket was covered by large, handsome sprays of white roses and lillies etc. gifts from loving hands, among others,

Interement was made in the Bethel Cemetery near Chesapeake City, Md., the Rev. Ausbury Corbe officiating in the ceremonies at the grave.



SEWELL C. BIGGS

MASQUERADE BALL

A Clever Masquerade Dance was given in "Masonic Hall" on Monday evening, by the Senior members of the Chesapeake City High School. The patroness were: Mrs. James Hopper, Mrs. L. K. Barwick, Mrs. J. W. Clayton and Mrs. William Byers, and Mrs. H. N. Caldwell as an old witch was much admired. Mrs. T. J. Conrey, and Mrs. J. W. Clayton as ladies of ye olden times, were completely "incog." Miss Mary Barwick, as "Pierrot," made a decided bit while Miss Mary Cooper looked the Japanese O. K. Miss Irene Byers, as "Boo-Peep" looked well. Miss Geneveine Byers as "Miss Columbia," Miss Gladys Banks, looked exceptionally well as an "old fashioned girl." Misses Helen Windel, Lucy Reed, Ida Bouchelle and Katherine McDonald were rather Comical Colored ladies." Miss Nellie Spear as "Queen of Hearts" was pretty. Miss Josephine Aiken represented Cards. Misses Will Aiken and Edna Brown as "Folly." Others masked in fancy costume were Misses Alice Hopper, Adelside Clayton, Esther Buckworth, Olive Baker, Agnes Davidson, Katherine Loveless, Beulah Jewell, Anna Hevelow, Emma Loveless, Edith Brown; unmasked, Misses Florence and Augusta Egee, Lelia and Elizabeth Thornton, Ethel and Carolyn Ellison, Edna Spear and Elise Ingram.

Messrs H. W. Caldwell as an old "Jew" gave one the horrors, Banks Queck, as Grandma was quite embarrassed because his wrapper showed her white hoisery, Jacob Metz was the pet of the evening, being a clown. J. W. Clayton as a very fat old woman was compelled to unmask early, Ward Beaston and Jack Reed were typical Southern Negroes. David Savin as a "Baker" was good looking, as was Charles Banks, dressed as a Southern gentleman. Parker Nowland as a "Hunter," Dolph Wharton and August Sima as "Jack Tars," unmasked were Dr. T. J. Conrey, Dallas Manlove, Edgar Bishop, Carle Wooleyhan, James Thornton, Clem Davidson, W. Bendler, Edwin White, George Vaughan, Ralph Watson, George Rorem, Harry Salmon and Richard Wallace.

MORGAN—BLOME WEDDING

Miss Bessie Morgan, of Elkton, Maryland, and Mr. Edmond Blome of this town were married at St. Joseph's Rectory on Saturday evening, at 7.30 o'clock by Father C. A. Crowley. They were accompanied by Miss Florence Blome the groom's sister and Mr. John Morgan, of Elkton, a brother of the bride, as maid of honor and best man.

The bride was gowned in a handsome travelling suit of dark blue broadcloth, with hat to correspond, and the maid of honor wore light blue silk mull.

At 9 o'clock a reception was held at the home of the groom's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Blome will make their home here where the groom is engaged in business.

Among the guests at the reception were: Mrs. George H. Lamborn, of Wooddale; Mr. and Mrs. Norwood Adkinson and Mrs. John Morgan, of Elkton, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Those Fine Moving Pictures

Has any one in this town cobwebs in their bosoms, or the "blues" or anytning of the sort? Then let 'em go to see the Moving Picture Show and they will be sure to have 'em all shaken out by the clean, wholesome fun and humor Mr. Newman throws on his versatile canvas.

"All the world loves a lover" said Emerson, and that's why these first rate love melodramas of his get hold of the heart strings of young and old. Reader we advise you to go have a laugh or shed tear, or let out a yell at Newman's delightful Moving Picture Show.
